UM OFFERS TWO MONTANA CONFERENCES FOR CPAS, EXECUTIVES

MISSOULA --

The University of Montana will offer Western Accounting Conferences in Whitefish and Missoula during August, each with a different selection of courses.

Each five-day conference, designed for certified public accountants and executives, offers up to 40 continuing professional education (CPE) credits.

The Whitefish conference is scheduled Monday through Friday, Aug. 1-5, at Grouse Mountain Lodge. The gathering will offer seven separate CPE courses: "Strategic Financial Management," "Designing an Effective Business Plan," "1994-1995 Federal Tax Update," "Effective Decision Making," "FASB Update and Review," "Oh No-OPEB!" and "The Adventure of Leadership."

Presenters will include Hap Klopp, founder of North Face, the world's leading producer of outdoor adventure equipment; nationally recognized tax expert Vern Hoven; and several UM business faculty members.

The Missoula conference, scheduled Aug. 15-19 at UM, will offer hands-on computer courses for varied skill levels. Classes will cover DOS, Windows, Lotus 1-2-3, WordPerfect and PageMaker programs. Other course topics include "New Developments in Microcomputers," "Basic Networking Management," "Spreadsheet Applications" and "Presentation Graphics."

Registration for either full five-day conference costs $629. Participants may opt to attend
